THE TWO REVIVALS

SERVICES AT BAPTIST AND SOUTH METHODIST CHURCHES.

THE FIELD OF THE HEART

The Topic at Baptist Church Well Handled—"A Hand Clasp" Theme at Southern Methodist.

The meeting at the First Baptist church was well attended last night, considering the inclemency of the weather.

Rev. Smith preached a most excellent sermon, using as his subject "The Field of the Heart." Text, Ezekiel 36:9. In the course of his sermon he said:

"In its natural condition man's heart is like a waste field. It brings forth no harvest of good unless cultivated. Before a harvest can be produced the heart must be tilled and sown. The heart of every sinner is as an untilled field."

"There are two kinds of sinners, the reputable and the disreputable. The reputable sinner, though vile in heart, endeavors to maintain a good appearance in the eye of the world. In order to do this he may even attend the services of the church, but should he take part in the singing or even in the prayer it is all an empty form. There is nothing in his life that God can use. It is a waste field."

"The disreputable sinner is one who lives in open shame and makes no effort to conceal it. Both these lives are untilled fields, the one as waste as the other."

"In the text there is a gracious promise that God will till and sow this waste field of the heart. In tilling this field God uses the plow of the law and the plow of the cross. With these he breaks up the hard hearts of men that the seed of the Gospel may find lodgment and grow."

The subject for tonight will be "Sin." The services begin promptly every evening at 7:30. Try to be on time.

There will be a day service on Thursday at 2:30 p. m. This service will be held especially for those who are unable to attend evening services. Everybody is cordially invited to attend all these services.

A small congregation was present last evening at the revival meeting now in progress at the M. E. church, South. The rain kept many away. Rev. Mr. Spainhower sang an effective solo and led the music.

The pastor's subject was "A Hand Clasp." He took Acts 3:7 as a text—"And he took him by the right hand and lifted him up." He said in part:

The human hand is wonderfully expressive. In judging men we study their faces. We say a strong jaw indicates determination. Thin lips, cold calculation. Keen eyes, active mentality. A face with long curves, love of beauty. A round face, good nature. A square face, rugged strength. The hand is but little less indicative of character than the face. Those who have studied it have found it full of meaning. In a business transaction watch a man's hands as well as his face. They may tell you even more of his state of mind than his expression.

Just as the shape and movements of the hand indicate character, so does the hand clasp. Mr. Bartol said: "There is a hand that has no heart in it; there is a claw or a paw, a fin or a flipper, a bit of wet cloth, a lump of unbaked dough, a cold clammy thing we recoil from or a greedy clutch with the heat of sin in it that we drop as a burning coal. What a scale from the talon to the horn of plenty is this human hand! Sometimes it is a knife-shaped, thin-bladed tool we dare not grasp, or an unclean member, which, white as it may look, we feel polluted by it."

This poor fellow here at the gate was saved by personal work. God's way is to use a man to save a man. The day for converting hundreds by a great sermon has passed. It is heart to heart and hand to hand that men are won for Christ. One word in love from you to an unsaved person is worth a hundred from the preacher.

Peter and John were willing to help this man do what they were asking him to do. Peter did not say to the cripple, get up and your ankles will get strong, and then walk off and leave him. He took him by the right hand and lifted him up. As Christians we ought not to ask men to do what we are not willing to help them do. If we ask men not to drink we ought to do our best to keep the saloons out of their way.

The beggar made no foolish excuses for failure to accept the means of deliverance offered to him. He might have said if you can't give me money, let me alone. There are so many fakers that I am afraid of you. I have never walked and I never can walk. He might have said I can't understand this power by which I am to be healed, and therefore I won't have anything to do with it. For so, friends, do the unsaved foolishly reason when urged to become Christians. I heard a minister say that when he was a little fellow his father planted a water-melon patch in a sandy bottom at the lower end of their garden. He watched his father make the hills and then punch the holes for the seed with his fingers. After a while the water-melons came up. Every day he would go to the patch to see how soon one would be ripe. One day his father pulled the first melon. A long dark green one, with plenty of girth. He took it to the house and called out to the family. He cut the melon open with his knife. It was dark red, thin rind and full of black seed. He offered the boy a large slice. Did the little fellow shake his head any say no, father; I can't understand how you could plant that little seed and get this fine melon; when I understand that I will eat; beside, it has all those hard black seed in it which are not good to eat. If they were not there and I could understand how the melon grew I am sure I would enjoy a slice.

MANY MADE TALKS

COMMERCIAL CLUB BANQUET WAS DECIDED SUCCESS.

FIGHT FIRE WITH FIRE

Cliff Harrison's Advice to Merchants in Competing for Business—Ten New Members Gained.

The Commercial club's banquet Tuesday night was the most largely attended of any that has been held for some months. Hon. John C. McKinley, candidate for governor on the Republican ticket; Hon. George S. Marsh, candidate for railroad and warehouse commissioner, and Cliff M. Harrison, postmaster at Gallatin and genial good fellow, were guests of the club.

Mr. McKinley made a ten-minute talk at the conclusion of the banquet before retiring from the room to go to the court house, where he made a political speech. His talk was along the lines of the Commercial club's work, and at its conclusion he invited the members to visit him at his home in Unionville or at Jefferson City, as the case might be. He was followed by George A. Pickens, whose address is printed in this paper.

Cliff M. Harrison gave the club his ideas as to how to build up the trade of Maryville. He stressed the value of advertising, and especially of newspaper advertising. He explained the value of illustrations in advertising, and cited the extent to which they are used in catalogues. He stated that the large mail order houses were spending as much as 20 per cent of their gross receipts for advertising purposes, while the average merchant spent 1 per cent or less. He said that to overtake them in the race for supremacy it was necessary to use a double portion of the same methods they used. He recited the experience of the Etter store at Gallatin in the matter of competing with mail order concerns, and this opened up a line of talk that was largely participated in by the club members, and which continued until 11 o'clock. Many helpful suggestions were made that will unquestionably prove of great value in the future upbuilding of Maryville's business interests.

Mr. George E. Moore also made a talk in which he called attention to a number of things which brought out more discussion. Rev. Harkness, who offered the invocation, also made a short talk, in which he strongly commended the spirit of the membership. Prof. John E. Cameron and Prof. F. H. Shepherd also made short talks. An important announcement made by the secretary was that ten new members had been added to the club in the last week. Two new members were also added Wednesday morning.

G. A. PICKENS' TALK AT CLUB.

An Exhaustive Paper on Topics Engrossing Attention of Business Men.

The following address was delivered at the meeting of the Commercial club Tuesday night.

Production is the foundation of every successful business. The only successful foundation we can build on in Nodaway county is agriculture. We are in the most fertile county of the best producing territory in the world, the corn and wheat belt of the United States, and the success of business in this agricultural community depends upon five things: (1) utilizing to the fullest extent the possibilities of the soil, (2) adequate transportation facilities for conveying the products of the farm to market, (3) better social conditions, (4) stock in the stores with merchandise the people want, (5) exploiting by judicious advertising.

Therefore, since the farmer and merchant are so interdependent, in order to build up the business of Maryville and Nodaway county and attain the best possible results, we see the necessity of a real community of interests.

It is generally admitted that small farms intensively cultivated is the ultimate means of insuring the greatest production. What greater mission could we have than to assist the agriculturist in securing these results?

We will not presume to state what per cent of Nodaway county is behind in its agricultural possibilities. The U. S. department of agriculture has just published a series of pamphlets setting forth the agricultural opportunities in all the states in the Union. The progress possible in Missouri is summed up as follows by the government experts, which we quote verbatim from an article taken from the St. Louis Republic of October 8:

"If every available acre of land in Missouri suitable for cultivation was properly tilled the annual output of corn, wheat, hay and similar staples would increase over 40 per cent without taking into consideration the gain in the production of vegetables, fruits,

FOR AND AGAINST

SINGLE TAX AMENDMENT BORE OF CONTENTION THURSDAY.

WOULD DEBATE QUESTION

J. R. Hermann Trying to Arrange Debate With J. E. Dowell at Court House Thursday.

The single tax amendment to be voted on by the voters of Missouri at the November election will be discussed Thursday at a meeting to be held in the court house in the afternoon, and one in the evening.

J. E. Dowell of Adair, Mo., will be the speaker at the afternoon meeting and will tell why you should vote against the single tax amendment. Mr. Dowell is sent here by the state headquarters of the Anti-Single Tax Amendment association.

J. R. Hermann of Denver, Col., arrived in Maryville Wednesday and is arranging for a meeting at the court house for Thursday, when he will speak in favor of the single tax amendment. Mr. Hermann would like to have Mr. Dowell debate the question with him at this meeting Thursday afternoon, but if arrangements can't be made, Mr. Hermann will speak in the evening.

There is much opposition to the single tax amendment over the county, and it is probable that the county will be organized at the meeting tomorrow.

THEY WON PRIZES

MANUAL TRAINING STUDENTS AT NORMAL WIN AT SEDALIA.

COMPETED WITH STATE

Modern Equipment Lacking at Normal Not Enough of a Handicap to Keep Students Back.

Prof. Frank Shepherd and his manual training students at the State Normal are feeling very fine, thank you, today over the prizes their work has just been awarded at the Missouri state fair at Sedalia, in the educational department of the fair.

Professor Shepherd did not expect his manual training school to win anything in this exhibit, as the competition was so strong, the schools exhibiting including those of St. Louis and Kansas City, where the equipment is so extensive and all modern machinery for use, with from two to four years' training for the students.

First premium on wood carving and wood turning, to the Northwest Normal manual training school.

Also third prizes to the same school for cabinet work and metal work.

The first prize was won by the general exhibit of twenty pieces made by all the students of this department and the pupils of the training school, that has attracted so much attention from visitors to that school.

The metal work consisted of desk sets, fern dishes, jardinières, and so on, in all twenty pieces.

This is certainly a big thing for the manual training school of the Northwest Normal, and proves that the work being carried on by Professor Shepherd and his students surpasses any in the state, for the equipment is not near to the standard it should be and will be when it can be done.

Roll call was responded to by quotations from the first act of Hamlet. Mrs. E. G. Orear gave the pronunciation of the names in the play of Hamlet, and Mrs. D. J. Tate gave current events.

Kensington and Luncheon.

Mrs. S. G. Gilliam and Mrs. G. H. Corbett entertained with an informal Kensington and luncheon Tuesday afternoon. This little social affair is one of a series that is being given by the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church, ten ladies acting as hostesses to ten members of the society for the purpose of promoting and fostering the spirit of sociability and personal interest that is possible and needful in successful and helpful church life. Mrs. Gilliam and Mrs. Corbett invited the two sections they were to entertain for one afternoon at Mrs. Gilliam's home, to make the affair doubly enjoyable. The rainy afternoon hindered the attendance of half the number who live in the country and could not attend. Those present were Mrs. J. F. Colby, Mrs. W. J. Taft's recent promise of tariff revision downward will be construed in the light of a similar promise made by him four years ago.

Missouri farmers will not forget that Attorney General Major's victory for the "full weight statute" in the United States supreme court saved Missouri grain producers $500,000.00 per year.

Woolen blankets bear a tariff tax of from 104.55 per cent to 165.42 per cent. Those who think of this in November may not be forced to remember it in January.

Under the administration of Cornelius Roach the revenues in the secretary of state's office have increased 40 per cent. That's the kind of administration that means something to the taxpayer.

The average tariff on cotton shirts and collars last year was 61.44 per cent. The American consumer must do one of two things. He will have to go to wearing silk shirts, or else take to voting the Democratic ticket.

Under the Payne-Aldrich tariff the cheaper the quality of clothing you wear the higher the tariff tax you must pay. This, of course, upon the theory that people who can't afford fine clothes shouldn't wear any at all.

The tariff tax paid by the consumers of cotton goods in this country in 1910 amounted to $210,000,000, or an average of $9.50 for each of the twenty-two million families in America. And Senator Lippitt's trust got the money.

Maybe the Republican-Bull Moose county candidates are "weighing the situation" just like Governor Hadley did for so long, but they should remember what happened to Billy Patterson, and also what will happen to Hadley.

It may be that the county Republican-Bull Moose candidates are waiting for their organ, the Tribune, to say where they stand as between Roosevelt and Taft. But if they wait on the Tribune the delay may be fatal. Our esteemed contemporary got frightened and climbed a tall sycamore early in the action, and at last accounts was said to be still climbing.

Governor Marshall of Indiana, the Democratic candidate for vice president, rises to remark: "I read in the Tribune that Morgan gave $100,000 to the Republican campaign fund. If that is all he gave he is a tightwad. He did not give half enough. President Roosevelt gave him the right, in violation of the law, to amalgamate the Tennessee Coal and Iron company with the steel trust. That deal netted Morgan $50,000,000."

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapiesin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief. This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterward.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

make the amusement, the circus, so clean that the preacher and his wife and the deacon and his wife and everybody could go.

I left the country when I was a boy, and am speaking for hundreds and thousands of farm boys when I tell why farm life did not appeal to me. There was nothing in it worth while. When I went to school the teacher told me she was teaching in the country because she could not get a city school. I remember the little schoolhouse, the benches with the girls on the left-hand side, the boys on the right. The only item of furniture was a large stove and a lot of cordwood piled around it. Around the little window we seventeen youngsters were trying to learn our lessons. If there was one song that could cheer us up a little it would be "Cuddle Up a Little Closer." There is no opportunity for a teacher to make a school of that kind what it ought to be. We cannot make home and country life more attractive except by getting a social center through the medium of the consolidated rural school. Make the school a social center. Several of the smaller schools must be combined in one and the pupils transported back and forth in carriages. The school should have a teacher in agriculture, a teacher of sewing, of manual training, of home economics, and of music. We cannot get them in that little school house. The time has gone by when that little school house can furnish the education demanded today. I know I antagonize thousands, who are prejudiced in favor of that little school by taking up this cause; but I know it is right.

and right will always prevail in the end. The farmer will put up the question, "Does it pay?" He will buy a machine which he will take for granted it will pay; but a large school house is to him a different proposition.

The consolidated school plan has been tried in thirty-two states. There are nearly 2,000 of them working successfully. In Minnesota the state supervises and furnishes special aid to get the farmers to build a school house with perfect ventilation, heat and light, and sufficiently large to teach all subjects required. In our state we persuaded the legislature to give those schools $2,100 each a year as special aid. We can afford that now, as we have a school fund of about $30,000,000, and we expect to have $150,000,000 in fifty years.

We say to the teacher, "You must become the social and civic leader in your community." We must have both instruction and entertainment in the school, and we must interest the parents in that entertainment. I attended a banquet and an entertainment at one of these schools. It was as fine a banquet as I ever sat down to. It was prepared and served by the school children, who afterward rendered as fine a program as I ever listened to. You could not drive one of those boys or girls away from the country if you wished.

Country life is being made more interesting also for fathers and mothers. They make the school a social center and furnish to the whole community as good and wholesome entertainment as can be had in the city. Permit the boys and girls in the country to get the chance they have in the city and they will stay and make the country what it ought to be.

The purpose of all this is for the good of all concerned in town or country, and it will be realized when people co-operate to bring it to pass.

For the merchant to get the business it is not only necessary for him to carry the stock to meet the people's wants, but to keep them informed about his wares by constant, persistent, judicious advertising. If any one can put up a better argument in a few words for publicity talk with printer's ink than could P. T. Barnum, whose fortune came by that road, we would like to know. Here is one of his classics: "I can out-talk any man but a printer, but the man who can stick type and the next morning talk to a thousand men while I am talking to one is the man I am afraid of, and I want to be his friend."

To hold the business after it has been obtained by advertising, the merchant must sell good goods at reasonable prices and render the service that leaves a satisfied customer.

Colonel Alanis Arrested.
El Paso, Tex., Oct. 9.—Another rebel leader was arrested in the United States and incidentally his wife, who had followed her husband through varying fortunes and herself fought in the field, is a volunteer in the local jail. He is Colonel Lacara Alanis, who is held on a charge of being a fugitive from justice.

Tiring of revolutions, Colonel Alanis came here accompanied by his militant spouse, who has led rebel troops. She was the Amazon who held Juarez in her power for a day and later led a detachment of her husband's troops.

Since Alanis has been arrested his warrior wife insists on remaining in jail with her husband.

SNOW STORM BURIED HUNTERS

Two Bodies Found in Mountains Near Denver Were Covered Ten Inches Deep.

Denver, Oct. 9.—Lost in a snow-storm near Cedar Edge the bodies of two deer hunters have been found covered with ten inches of snow near a great boulder, where they had taken shelter according to advice just received here.

The dead hunters are Louis McKane, 21 years old, and Earl Rhodes, 22 years old, of Cedar Edge. While deer hunting on Grand Mesa, near Leon Lake, they lost their way. After battling the gale for hours in an effort to regain their camp, they succumbed.

Word has just reached Gunning of another man lost in the wilds and doubtless dead. He is a forest ranger whose name cannot be learned.

DON'T SCOLD CROSS, IRRITABLE CHILDREN.

If Tongue is Coated, Stomach Sour,
Breath Foul, Bowels Clogged,
Give "Syrup of Figs."

Mother! look at the tongue! See if it is coated. If your child is listless, drooping, isn't sleeping well, is restless, doesn't eat heartily or is cross, irritable, out of sorts with everybody, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad, stomach ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, or is full of cold, it means the little one's stomach, liver and thirty feet of bowels are filled with poisons and clogged up waste and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours the foul, decaying, constipated matter, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well and smiling child shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, beside they dearly love its delicious taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, lasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

NO DYNAMITE WAS BOUGHT BY UNION

Labor Attorney Outlines Defense in Famous Case at Indianapolis.

TO USE GOVERNMENT'S EVIDENCE

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 9.—What the defense will be in the trial of the 45 men accused by the government of complicity in the "dynamite conspiracy" was outlined before the jury by William N. Harding, attorney for the defendants.

Mr. Harding said it would be shown that the executive board of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers never appropriated a dollar to be used for dynamiting.

Term "Jobs" is Explained.

He asked the jury to suspend judgment until after the witnesses had testified. If any one connected with the union diverted the funds for any illegal purpose, the guilty persons, he said, it would be shown, were not among the present defendants.

"When you have heard all the testimony," Mr. said, "we think you will have concluded that about three men were engaged in the nefarious work of dynamiting, and that those three men already have pleaded guilty."

Referring to letters written by Frank M. Ryan, president of the Ironworkers' union, to various business agents, which the government quoted as showing that "jobs" was the term used to designate the explosions against employers of non-union labor, Mr. Harding said it would be shown that "jobs" meant only new work which offered opportunity for union men to get employment.

Harding Was Excited.

He added it would be upon the very letters which the government quoted in the indictments that the defense expected to rest its case.

Once Mr. Harding became so vehement in answering District Attorney Charles W. Miller that Judge Anderson interposed, "the court will make allowances for your enthusiasm for the defendants, but it is not necessary for you to split the ears of the jurors in an opening statement."

THE TWO REVIVALS

SERVICES AT BAPTIST AND SOUTH METHODIST CHURCHES.

THE FIELD OF THE HEART

The Topic at Baptist Church Well Handled—"A Hand Clasp" Theme at Southern Methodist.

The meeting at the First Baptist church was well attended last night, considering the inclemency of the weather.

Rev. Smith preached a most excellent sermon, using as his subject "The Field of the Heart." Text, Ezekiel 36:9. In the course of his sermon he said:

"In its natural condition man's heart is like a waste field. It brings forth no harvest of good unless cultivated. Before a harvest can be produced the heart must be tilled and sown. The heart of every sinner is as an untilled field.

"There are two kinds of sinners, the reputable and the disreputable. The reputable sinner, though vile in heart, endeavors to maintain a good appearance in the eye of the world. In order to do this he may even attend the services of the church, but should he take part in the singing or even in the prayer it is all an empty form. There is nothing in his life that God can use. It is a waste field.

"The disreputable sinner is one who lives in open shame and makes no effort to conceal it. Both these lives are untilled fields, the one as waste as the other.

"In the text there is a gracious promise that God will till and sow this waste field of the heart. In tilling this field God uses the plow of the law and the plow of the cross. With these he breaks up the hard hearts of men that the seed of the Gospel may find lodgment and grow."

The subject for tonight will be "Sin." The services begin promptly every evening at 7:30. Try to be on time.

There will be a day service on Thursday at 2:30 p. m. This service will be held especially for those who are unable to attend evening services. Everybody is cordially invited to attend all these services.

A small congregation was present last evening at the revival meeting now in progress at the M. E. church, South. The rain kept many away. Rev. Mr. Spahnower sang an effective solo and led the music.

The pastor's subject was "A Hand Clasp." He took Acts 3:7 as a text—"And he took him by the right hand and lifted him up." He said in part:

The human hand is wonderfully expressive. In judging men we study their faces. We say a strong jaw indicates determination. Thin lips, cold calculation. Keen eyes, active mentality. A face with long curves, love of beauty. A round face, good nature. A square face, rugged strength. The hand is but little less indicative of character than the face. Those who have studied it have found it full of meaning. In a business transaction watch a man's hands as well as his face. They may tell you even more of his state of mind than his expression.

Just as the shape and movements of the hand indicate character, so does the hand clasp. Mr. Bartol said: "There is a hand that has no heart in it; there is a claw or a paw, a fin or a flipper, a bit of wet cloth, a lump of unbaked dough, a cold clammy thing we recoil from or a greedy clutch with the heat of sin in it that we drop as a burning coal. What a scale from the talon to the horn of plenty is this human hand! Sometimes it is a knife-shaped, thin-bladed tool we dare not grasp, or an unclean member, which, white as it may look, we feel polluted by it."

This poor fellow here at the gate was saved by personal work. God's way is to use a man to save a man. The day for converting hundreds by a great sermon has passed. It is heart to heart and hand to hand that men are won for Christ. One word in love from you to an unsaved person is worth a hundred from the preacher.

Peter and John were willing to help this man do what they were asking him to do. Peter did not say to the cripple, get up and your ankles will get strong, and then walk off and leave him. He took him by the right hand and lifted him up. As Christians we ought not to ask men to do what we are not willing to help them do. If we ask men not to drink we ought to do our best to keep the saloons out of their way.

The beggar made no foolish excuses for failure to accept the means of deliverance offered to him. He might have said if you can't give me money, let me alone. There are so many fakers that I am afraid of you. I have never walked and I never can walk. He might have said I can't understand this power by which I am to be healed, and therefore I won't have anything to do with it. For so, friends, do the unsaved foolishly reason when urged to become Christians. I heard a minister say that when he was a little fellow his father planted a watermelon patch in a sandy bottom at the lower end of their garden. He watched his father make the hills and then punch the holes for the seed with his fingers. After a while the watermelons came up. Every day he would go to the patch to see how soon one would be ripe. One day his father pulled the first melon. A long dark green one, with plenty of girth. He took it to the house and called out to the family. He cut the melon open with his knife. It was dark red, this rind and full of black seed. He offered the boy a large slice. Did the little fellow shake his head any say no, father; I can't understand how you could plant that little seed and get this fine melon; when I understand that I will eat; beside, it has all those hard black seed in it which are not good to eat. If they were not there and I could understand how the melon grew I am sure I would enjoy a slice.

MANY MADE TALKS

COMMERCIAL CLUB BANQUET WAS DECIDED SUCCESS.

FIGHT FIRE WITH FIRE

The Commercial club's banquet Tuesday night was the most largely attended of any that has been held for some months. Hon. John C. McKinley, candidate for governor on the Republican ticket; Hon. George S. Marsh, candidate for railroad and warehouse commissioner, and Cliff M. Harrison, postmaster at Gallatin and genial good fellow, were guests of the club.

Mr. McKinley made a ten-minute talk at the conclusion of the banquet before retiring from the room to go to the court house, where he made a political speech. His talk was along the lines of the Commercial club's work, and at its conclusion he invited the members to visit him at his home in Unionville or at Jefferson City, as the case might be. He was followed by George A. Pickens, whose address is printed in this paper.

Cliff M. Harrison gave the club his ideas as to how to build up the trade of Maryville. He stressed the value of advertising, and especially of newspaper advertising. He explained the value of illustrations in advertising, and cited the extent to which they are used in catalogues. He stated that the large mail order houses were spending as much as 20 per cent of their gross receipts for advertising purposes, while the average merchant spent 1 per cent or less. He said that to overtake them in the race for supremacy it was necessary to use a double portion of the same methods they used. He recited the experience of the Elter store at Gallatin in the matter of competing with mail order concerns, and this opened up a line of talk that was largely participated in by the club members, and which continued until 11 o'clock. Many helpful suggestions were made that will unquestionably prove of great value in the future upbuilding of Maryville's business interests.

Mr. George E. Moore also made a talk in which he called attention to a number of things which brought out more discussion. Rev. Harkness, who offered the invocation, also made a short talk, in which he strongly commended the spirit of the membership. Prof. John E. Cameron and Prof. F. H. Shepherd also made short talks.

An important announcement made by the secretary was that ten new members had been added to the club in the last week. Two new members were also added Wednesday morning.

G. A. PICKENS' TALK AT CLUB.

An Exhaustive Paper on Topics Engrossing Attention of Business Men.

The following address was delivered at the meeting of the Commercial club Tuesday night.

Production is the foundation of every successful business. The only successful foundation we can build on in Nodaway county is agriculture. We are in the most fertile county of the best producing territory in the world, the corn and wheat belt of the United States, and the success of business in this agricultural community depends upon five things: (1) utilizing to the fullest extent the possibilities of the soil, (2) adequate transportation facilities for conveying the products of the farm to market, (3) better social conditions, (4) stock in the stores with merchandise the people want, (5) exploiting by judicious advertising.

Therefore, since the farmer and merchant are so interdependent, in order to build up the business of Maryville and Nodaway county and attain the best possible results, we see the necessity of a real community of interests.

It is generally admitted that small farms intensively cultivated is the ultimate means of insuring the greatest production. What greater mission could we have than to assist the agriculturist in securing these results?

We will not presume to state what per cent of Nodaway county is behind in its agricultural possibilities. The U. S. department of agriculture has just published a series of pamphlets setting forth the agricultural opportunities in all the states in the Union. The progress possible in Missouri is summed up as follows by the government experts, which we quote verbatim from an article taken from the St. Louis Republic of October 8:

"If every available acre of land in Missouri suitable for cultivation was properly tilled the annual output of corn, wheat, hay and similar staples would increase over 40 per cent without taking into consideration the gain in the production of vegetables, fruits, dairy products, live stock, honey, wool and all other farm commodities, which, in consequence, would naturally also follow. It is conservative to state that were Missouri divided up into small farms running from 40 to 100 acres and each worked intensively, the present yield of all agricultural products would increase 30 per cent for all the lands now being tilled, not to mention the unimproved but desirable tracts which are open and ready for settlement. While the possibilities of this state in raising oats, barley, buckwheat, popcorn, tobacco, cow peas, rye, alfalfa and many other farm staples, have not been fully touched upon in this article, the same increased production is ahead for each, as is predicted for wheat and corn, when Missouri is as thickly settled as resources and advantages show it ought to be. Even corn cobs, which in most other states are considered valueless and are burned to rid the farm of them, are eagerly picked up at a fair price by pipe manufacturers and turned into a commodity known the world over as "Missouri meerschaum pipes."

Some of the things that could assist in promoting greater production in Nodaway county are:

(1) Every effort should be made to induce the boys to attend the state agricultural school at the university or state normal school, where they will be trained in scientific and practical farming.

(2) Farmers' institutes and short courses for adult farmers should be fostered and made of great interest and value to them.

(3) Local agricultural associations. We already have one of the best organizations of this kind anywhere—our Nodaway County Agricultural association—and no better work could be done by the Commercial club than to render every assistance possible by co-operating with the assistance of the state being to Maryville an expert "soil doctor," who shall have a suite of rooms here, and in addition to testing the soil for the farmers, hold Saturday meetings in his offices to discuss agricultural subjects and dispense information of interest and value to the farmer.

There is no use to discuss at length the necessity or importance of good roads and permanent bridges. However, advancement in this line is necessarily controlled by the agriculturist himself; still, it behooves every business man and organization to co-operate with him in bringing about the desired conditions.

While it is possible now to have every modern convenience on the farm, such as heating plants, lighting and water systems, along with the most modern farm machinery, the opportunity for social enjoyment are not adequate, but the possibility of having these enjoyments and benefits to be derived from them have been apparently pointed out by Governor Eberhart of Minnesota in his speech at Rochester, N. Y., before the chamber of commerce. He says in part: "I live in a large city. As I was walking by one of the union stations one day I saw a hundred or more laboring men sitting on the curb waiting for work to do. At that time we were harvesting one of the largest grain crops we ever had in Minnesota, and calling for help. I asked why they would not go to the country and work, and they replied: 'There is nothing but working, eating and sleeping. Might just as well be dead as to live in the country.'"

The two great problems of today are to make country life more attractive and city life more wholesome. Boys and girls are leaving the farms because farm life is unattractive; because there is nothing in the average farm home that appeals to what is true and beautiful, noble and elevating in a boy's or girl's life. We want something in addition to work—something attractive; something that appeals to the best in us. We want amusement and entertainment of the very best kind."

A little country girl of 7, who had never seen a circus, pleaded with her parents to take her, but they refused. Finally she got the consent of her mother to let the servant take her. On coming home she ran to her mother and said: "Mamma, if you would go to the circus just once you would never go to prayer meeting again in all your life."

There is to me a message in that as meaningful as anything could be. We ought to make church life so helpful and the prayer meeting so attractive that the father, the mother and the children, as well as the preacher and his wife, would delight in it. On the other hand, we ought to

MANUAL TRAINING STUDENTS AT NORMAL WIN AT SEDALIA.

Modern Equipment Lacking at Normal Not Enough of a Handicap to Keep Students Back.

Prof. Frank Shepherd and his manual training students at the State Normal are feeling very fine, thank you, today over the prizes their work has just been awarded at the Missouri state fair at Sedalia, in the educational department of the fair.

Professor Shepherd did not expect his manual training school to win anything in this exhibit, as the competition was so strong, the schools exhibiting including those of St. Louis and Kansas City, where the equipment is so extensive and all modern machinery for use, with from two to four years' training for the students.

But here is the result: First premium on wood carving and wood turning, to the Northwest Normal manual training school.

Also third prizes to the same school for cabinet work and metal work.

The first prize was won by the general exhibit of twenty pieces made by all the students of this department and the pupils of the training school, that has attracted so much attention from visitors to that school.

The metal work consisted of desk sets, fern dishes, jardiniere, and so on, in all twenty pieces.

This is certainly a big thing for the manual training school of the Northwest Normal, and proves that the work being carried on by Professor Shepherd and his students surpasses any in the state, for the equipment is not near to the standard it should be and will be when it can be done.

She and her husband are two of the most prominent residents of Lewis county.

Taft's recent promise of tariff revision downward will be construed in the light of a similar promise made by him four years ago.

Missouri farmers will not forget that Attorney General Major's victory for the "full weight statute" in the United States supreme court saved Missouri grain producers $500,000.00 per year.

Woolen blankets bear a tariff tax of from 104.55 per cent to 165.42 per cent. Those who think of this in November may not be forced to remember it in January.

Under the administration of Cornelius Roach the revenues in the secretary of state's office have increased 40 per cent. That's the kind of administration that means something to the taxpayer.

The average tariff on cotton shirts and collars last year was 61.44 per cent. The American consumer must do one of two things. He will have to go to wearing silk shirts, or else take to voting the Democratic ticket.

Under the Payne-Aldrich tariff the cheaper the quality of clothing you wear the higher the tariff tax you must pay. This, of course, upon the theory that people who can't afford fine clothes shouldn't wear any at all.

The tariff tax paid by the consumers of cotton goods in this country in 1910 amounted to $210,000,000, or an average of $9.50 for each of the twenty-two million families in America. And Senator Lippitt's trust got the money.

Maybe the Republican-Bull Moose county candidates are "weighing the situation" just like Governor Hadley did for so long, but they should remember what happened to Billy Patterson, and also what will happen to Hadley.

It may be that the county Republican-Bull Moose candidates are waiting for their organ, the Tribune, to say where they stand as between Roosevelt and Taft. But if they wait on the Tribune the delay may be fatal. Our esteemed contemporary got frightened and climbed a tall sycamore early in the action, and at last accounts was said to be still climbing.

Governor Marshall of Indiana, the Democratic candidate for vice president, rises to remark: "I read in the Tribune that Morgan gave $100,000 to the Republican campaign fund. If that is all he gave he is a tightwad. He did not give half enough. President Roosevelt gave him the right, in violation of the law, to amalgamate the Tennessee Coal and Iron company with the steel trust. That deal netted Morgan $50,000,000."

make the amusement, the circus, so clean that the preacher and his wife and the deacon and his wife and everybody could go."

I left the country when I was a boy, and am speaking for hundreds and thousands of farm boys when I tell why farm life did not appeal to me. There was nothing in it worth while. When I went to school the teacher told me she was teaching in the country because she could not get a city school. I remember the little schoolhouse, the benches with the girls on the left-hand side, the boys on the right. The only item of furniture was a large stove and a lot of cordwood piled around it. Around the little window we seventeen youngsters were trying to learn our lessons. If there was one song that could cheer us up a little it would be "Cuddle Up a Little Closer." There is no opportunity for a teacher to make a school of that kind what it ought to be. We cannot make home and country life more attractive except by getting a social center through the medium of the consolidated rural school. Make the school a social center. Several of the smaller schools must be combined in one and the pupils transported back and forth in carriages. The school should have a teacher in agriculture, a teacher of sewing, of manual training, of home economics, and of music. We cannot get them in that little school house. The time has gone by when that little school house can furnish the education demanded today. I know I antagonize thousands who are prejudiced in favor of that little school by taking up this cause; but I know it is right.

It may be that the county Republican-Bull Moose candidates are waiting for their organ, the Tribune, to say where they stand as between Roosevelt and Taft. and right will always prevail in the end. The farmer will put up the question, "Does it pay?" He will buy a machine which he will take for granted it will pay; but a large school house is to him a different proposition."

The consolidated school plan has been tried in thirty-two states. There are nearly 2,900 of them working successfully. In Minnesota the state supervises and furnishes special aid to get the farmers to build a school house with perfect ventilation, heat and light, and sufficiently large to teach all subjects required. In our state we persuaded the legislature to give those schools $2,100 each a year as special aid. We can afford that now, as we have a school fund of about $30,000,000, and we expect to have $150,000,000 in fifty years.

We say to the teacher, "You must become the social and civic leader in your community." We must have both instruction and entertainment in the school, and we must interest the parents in that entertainment. I attended a banquet and an entertainment at one of these schools. It was as fine a banquet as I ever sat down to. It was prepared and served by the school children, who afterward rendered as fine a program as I ever listened to. You could not drive one of those boys or girls away from the country if you wished.

Country life is being made more interesting also for fathers and mothers. They make the school a social center and furnish to the whole community as good and wholesome entertainment as can be had in the city. Permit the boys and girls in the country to get the chance they have in the city and they will stay and make the country what it ought to be.

The purpose of all this is for the good of all concerned in town or country, and it will be realized when people co-operate to bring it to pass.

For the merchant to get the business it is not only necessary for him to carry the stock to meet the people's wants, but to keep them informed about his wares by constant, persistent, judicious advertising. If any one can put up a better argument in a few words for publicity talk with printer's ink than could P. T. Barnum, whose fortune came by that road, we would like to know. Here is one of his classics: "I can out-talk any man but a printer, but the man who can stick type and the next morning talk to a thousand men while I am talking to one is the man I am afraid of, and I want to be his friend."

To hold the business after it has been obtained by advertising, the merchant must sell good goods at reasonable prices and render the service that leaves a satisfied customer.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 9.—Another rebel leader was arrested in the United States and incidentally his wife, who had followed her husband through varying fortunes and herself fought in the field, is a volunteer in the local jail. He is Colonel Lacara Alanis, who is held on a charge of being a fugitive from justice.

Tiring of revolutions, Colonel Alanis came here accompanied by his militant spouse, who has led rebel troops. She was the Amazon who held Juarez in her power for a day and later led a detachment of her husband's troops.

Since Alanis has been arrested his warrior wife insists on remaining in jail with her husband.

SNOW STORM BURIED HUNTERS

Two Bodies Found in Mountains Near Denver Were Covered Ten Inches Deep.

Denver, Oct. 9.—Lost in a snow storm near Cedar Edge the bodies of two deer hunters have been found covered with ten inches of snow near a great boulder, where they had taken shelter according to advices just received here.

The dead hunters are Louis McKane, 21 years old, and Earl Rhodes, 22 years old, of Cedar Edge. While deer hunting on Grand Mesa, near Leon Lake, they lost their way. After battling the gale for hours in an effort to regain their camp, they succumbed.

Word has just reached Gunning of another man lost in the wilds and doubtless dead. He is a forest ranger whose name cannot be learned.

DON'T SCOLD CROSS,

IRRITABLE CHILDREN.

If Tongue is Coated, Stomach Sour, Breath Feverish, Bowels Clogged, Give "Syrup of Figs."

Mother! look at the tongue! See if it is coated. If your child is listless, drooping, isn't sleeping well, is restless, doesn't eat heartily or is cross, irritable, out of sorts with everybody, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad; stomach ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, or is full of cold, it means the little one's stomach, liver and thirty feet of bowels are filled with poisons and clogged up waste and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours the foul, decaying, constipated matter, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well and smiling child shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, beside they dearly love its delicious taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regularizer needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, lasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

NO DYNAMITE WAS BOUGHT BY UNION

Labor Attorney Outlines Defense in Famous Case at Indianapolis.

TO USE GOVERNMENT'S EVIDENCE

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 9.—What the defense will be in the trial of the 45 men accused by the government of complicity in the "dynamite conspiracy" was outlined before the jury by William N. Harding, attorney for the defendants.

Mr. Harding said it would be shown that the executive board of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers never appropriated a dollar to be used for dynamiting.

Term "Jobs" is Explained. He asked the jury to suspend judgment until after the witnesses had testified. If any one connected with the union diverted the funds for any illegal purpose, the guilty persons, he said, it would be shown, were not among the present defendants.

"When you have heard all the testimony," Mr. said, "we think you will have concluded that about three men were engaged in the nefarious work of dynamiting, and that those three men already have pleaded guilty."

Referring to letters written by Frank M. Ryan, president of the Ironworkers' union, to various business agents, which the government quoted as showing that "jobs" was the term used to designate the explosions against employers of non-union labor, Mr. Harding said it would be shown that "jobs" meant only new work which offered opportunity for union men to get employment.

Harding Was Excited. He added it would be upon the very letters which the government quoted in the indictments that the defense expected to rest its case.

Once Mr. Harding became so vehement in answering District Attorney Charles W. Miller that Judge Anderson interposed, "the court will make allowances for your enthusiasm for the defendants, but it is not necessary for you to split the ears of the jurors in an opening statement."

Chicago, Oct. 9.—An ordinance has now been passed by the city council giving the municipal authorities full power to regulate and control cold storage warehouses. The adopting of the ordinance marked the end of a seven-year struggle by the city to gain adequate control of such plants.

It is provided that no food products, except meats, fruits, cheese, and vegetables, shall be kept in cold storage for a period exceeding ten months; that butter products can be kept in cold storage not more than one year, and that fish shall not be kept in cold storage more than six months.

I Am Willing To Prove I Can Cure You

To That End I Am Giving Away $10,000 Worth of Medicine

There is no doubt beyond all doubt that I am in possession of a medicine that will cure kidney trouble, bladder trouble or rheumatism. I will this year give away ten thousand dollars worth of this medicine, and anyone suffering from these diseases can get a box of it absolutely free. All you need is to send me your address.

I don't mean that you are to use a part of it or all of it and pay for it. I mean that I will send you a box of this medicine absolutely free of charge. A gift from me to the five million sufferers of the world, so I can show them what I can do for them. I will not expect payment for this medicine, nor would I accept it now or later. If you send it, it is free in the real meaning of the word.

For twenty-five years—a quarter of a century—I have been trying to convince the public that I have something to offer. I am something better than others have for the cure of stubborn, chronic rheumatism, for aching kidney backache, for annoying calls to urinate. But it is hard to convince people—they try a few things, unsuccessfully, for this or that ailment and refuse to listen to anyone's advice. Happily, I am in a position now to demonstrate to sufferers at my own expense that I have a medicine that cures these diseases. I don't ask them to spend any money to find out. I don't ask them to believe me; not even to take the word of reliable people, but all I ask is that they allow me to send them a box of my medicine at my own cost. That is surely fair.

To this end I have set aside ten thousand dollars, which will be used to give away my medicine. Much of it is ready now to be sent out, all of it fresh and standard. There will be enough for all sufferers, though there be thousands of them. And anyone who needs it can get some of it free. But in order that I shall know that you have a disease for which this medicine is intended, I ask you to send me some of your leading symptoms. If you have any of the symptoms in the list printed here you need my medicine and if you will write me I will gladly send you a box of it free with full directions for your use. Look at the symptoms over, see which symptoms you have, then write me about as follows: "Dear Dr. I notice symptoms number—here put down the numbers give your age, full address, and send it to me. My address is Dr. Frank Lynott, 9120 Deegan Bldg., Chicago, Ill."

The ten thousand dollars I am spending for the corresponding of my medicine is only a part of the money I am devoting to this cause, for the package of medicine I send you will be fully prepaid at my expense. From my standpoint you view it. YOU incur no expense or obligation. Just tell others who you know are suffering who sent you the medicine that cured you.

I am promising to give away ten thousand dollars' worth of medicine, and I will do that. I am promising to send any sufferer who writes me a box of this medicine and full directions free of charge, and I will do that. I can say further that this medicine has been vouchered for according to law as complying in every detail with all requirements. It will stop rheumatism, it will stop pain and backache, it will stop frequent desire to urinate, it will heal, soothe and strengthen. You will be better in every way for having taken it. There is not an ingredient that can injure; not one but will benefit. All that I ask is that you use it yourself so that you may be personally convinced.

Going to the large number of requests, I have had ten thousand more copies of my medical book printed. This book is new and up to date and contains complete descriptions, symptoms, causes, effects and cures of kidney, bladder and rheumatic diseases. All who write for the free medicine will be sent a copy of this book illustrated medical book—the largest ever written on these diseases (free and general distribution).

If you need medicine such as I have, if you are anxious to be cured and don't want to spend any money LOOKING FOR cures, write me. Read the symptoms over, and let me hear from you today.

These Are the Symptoms:

1. Pain in the back.
2. Frequent desire to urinate.
3. Burning or obstruction of urine.
4. Pain or soreness in the bladder.
5. Urinary trouble.
6. Pain in the stomach.
7. General debility, weakness, dizziness.
8. Pain or soreness under right rib.
9. Pain or soreness in the joints.
10. Pain or swelling of the joints.
11. Pain or soreness of the muscles.
12. Pain and soreness in the neck.
13. Acute or chronic rheumatism.

LITTLE HOPE FOR PEACE IN EUROPE

General Outbreak of War is Expected Within 48 Hours.

GREAT POWERS WERE OUTWITTED

Montenegro's Move Believed Part of Prearranged Plot to Open Hostilities Before Peace Negotiations Got Well Started.

Paris, Oct. 9.—A general conflagration in the Balkans is expected by officials here within 48 hours. Montenegro's declaration of war against Turkey is regarded merely as a beginning. It is believed that the other units in the Balkan coalition will follow suit as soon as the mobilization of their armies is complete. There is only a faint hope now that the representations of the powers will avert general hostilities.

Montenegro's move is considered in Paris to be part of a prearranged plan. It is asserted that Greece was first selected by the Balkan confederation to force the issue and inaugurate the war. This could have been done easily by Greece seating in the Greek Parliament the deputies from Crete, which was certain to prove a cause for war to Turkey. Greece, however, declined to accept responsibility for starting the flame of battle.

Bulgaria Will Lead. Montenegro had a long standing quarrel with Turkey over the boundary question, and Turkey's refusal to grant satisfaction was seized upon as justification for Montenegro's resort to arms. It is not doubted here that cooler heads in Bulgaria have been against the war from the start, but popular excitement is at such a high pitch that that country practically will be driven to war to satisfy public opinion.

In the failure of intervention, every fiber of energy will be exerted by the great powers to prevent the war flame from engulfing Europe. It is realized that all depends on the eventual attitude of Austria, which, according to late advices, already has mobilized four army corps—in Croatia, Bosnia, Herzegovina and Southern Hungary—and stands ready to occupy the Sanjak of Novi Pazar, should this coveted strategic territory be menaced by the Servians and Montenegrins.

Balkans Beat Europe. The real story of how the Balkan powers forestalled and outwitted European intervention is told in the official advices from Cetinje, Montenegro. The Austrian and Russian representatives presented the vote in the name of the powers, warning the Balkan states against war, at 11 o'clock in the morning; but two and a half hours earlier the Montenegrin government had handed his passports to the Ottoman charge. Thus the Montenegrin cabinet was in a position to say that the representations of the powers came too late, a rupture of diplomatic relations having already occurred.

A WORD WITH WOMEN.

Valuable Advice for Maryville Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." When the kidneys get congested and inflamed, there are many such aches and pains and the whole body suffers.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. They can't get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have brought sound backs and new life and strength to thousands of suffering women. They are endorsed right in this locality. Read this woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. Martha Partridge, 801 East Fourth street, Maryville, Mo., says: "It was seven years ago when I suffered from kidney and bladder complaint, and my trouble made me weak and nervous. RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Failing, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a superior preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp, and thin, weak, falling hair.

The beauty of the hair depends more on its rich, even shading than anything else. Don't have dry, harsh faded hair, when a simple, harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days; and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose, falling hairs. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength and beauty to your hair.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and prove this to your own satisfaction. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Agent Koch Pharmacy.

BEGGED TO BE SENT TO ASYLUM

Wealthy Missouri Farmer, Fearing Loss of Reason, Asks Inquiry Into Mental Condition.

Macon, Mo., Oct. 9.—Clark Jones, 45 years old, the owner of a large farm and easily worth $10,000, with a wife and three children, voluntarily appeared before the Macon county probate court and asked an inquiry into his sanity. Jones was well dressed and talked so rationally that the judge hesitated.

"I mean it," said Mr. Jones. "I want to be sent to the insane asylum. I must be put under restraint of some kind or I will do great harm to myself or somebody."

A jury was summoned and to them the applicant made this statement: "A great writer once wrote a book on something like this—a man who, as a doctor, was good, and kind, and beloved; then, in another form, he was everything that was the opposite. That seems to convey something of the condition I am in."

"I have never harmed knowingly a soul. I believe in the Lord Jesus Christ with all my heart. I hope to go to heaven, and I want to go there entirely clean, without a wrong laid to my door, not even a wrong committed when I did not know what I was doing. That is why I am asking you to find a verdict in this case that will mean protection to myself and others."
